

Red-Harassed Czech Minister, Jan Masaryk, Ends His Life

Prague, March 10 (AP) — Jan Masaryk, 61, non-party foreign minister in the new Communist government, killed himself today in a leap from his second story office, the government announced.

(Gen. Lev. Pichala, a Czech resistance leader in London, commented: "Suicide? It is possible.")

Masaryk was the son of Thomas Masaryk, founder and first president of the republic. His death took from the Communists the use of the distinguished name. The controlled radio said Masaryk "must have been seriously aggrieved and wounded by the malicious, tendentious attacks made upon him by the western press."

Play Requiem Music

Officials of the foreign ministry, after a period of reluctance to confirm the report, finally announced Masaryk had died at 8 a. m. The government broadcast at noon officially announced the death. It followed the announcement with the solemn requiem music of Anton Dvorak, the great Czech composer. The government delayed without explanation foreign news agency telegraph circuits for 30 minutes.

Masaryk last appeared publicly Sunday. He looked harassed, haggard and worried.

The controlled press had quoted him as telling Czechoslovak army officers last Thursday:

"You can count on me. I am one of you x x x We must have unity with the Soviet Union. Our place is at their side. We must be grateful if Russia allows us to be there. We made a bloodless revolution and have entered a new phase of history."

Second "Death" Plunge

Even while Masaryk's body was borne from the courtyard where he fell, Dr. Prokop Drtina, who was minister of justice in the previous cabinet with him, was convalescing from head injuries sustained in what police said was a three-story plunge from his villa, two days after the (Continued on Page 6)

AWARD THIRD CONTRACT FOR LINCOLN ROAD

The contract for improvement of the third link on U. S. Route 30, the Lincoln highway, between Gettysburg and Chambersburg, was awarded today by the Department of Highways. The contract was given to the H. J. Williams Co., Inc., York, at the low bid of $668,468.70. It is for 3.34 miles of concrete pavement 33 feet wide and a bridge to carry the highway over tracks of the Pennsylvania railroad.

This project will connect with slightly more than three miles of new concrete pavement completed last fall east of Chambersburg. Tuesday the department announced award of two contracts for 12.36 miles of three and four lane pavement which will extend eastward from the end of the Williams contract.

The village of Fayetteville will be by-passed by the new highway.

3-Span Bridge

The contract calls for 145,978 cubic yards of excavation and 169,863 cubic yards of fill. The roadway will be graded for a width of from 49 to 61 feet. A nine inch concrete slab pavement will be laid on top of a six inch special subgrade.

Plans call for construction of a three-span structure over the P.R.R. tracks. These spans will be 45 feet wide. Pits up to 32 feet in height will be made at the bridge approach. The structure will require 1,001 cubic yards of concrete, 5,919 pounds of structural steel and 178,741 pounds of steel reinforcing bars. At present the highway crosses the tracks at grade.

Approximately 300 feet west of the structure carrying the Lincoln highway over the railroad a concrete arch having a span of 50 feet will be built over a stream. This will take 1,393 cubic yards of concrete and 32,110 pounds of steel reinforcing bars.

This project, like the two announced Tuesday, will be financed entirely with state funds. Bids for the improvement were opened February 27.

SAYS FAITH IN UN IS NEEDED FOR ITS SUCCESS

"The ultimate success of the United Nations council depends upon the faith which people like us have in it," Mrs. Lester O. Johnson, North Stratton street, declared Tuesday night in a talk on "The United Nations" at the regular meeting of the Business and Professional Women's club, held at the YWCA. The meeting followed a dinner at 6:30 p. m.

The speaker said that in the formation of the original United Nations charter, it came through a series of events, the Atlantic Charter in 1941; the UN declaration in 1942; the Moscow conference in 1945.

45 Nations Involved

SHEELY SCORES RED MENACE AS WORLD THREAT

"Every Mason, every Christian, every American must bind together with one thought in mind—the defeat of Communism in any part of the world," Judge W. C. Sheely told members of the Good Samaritan Royal Arch Chapter No. 266 at their first annual ladies' night and banquet at the Trinity Reformed church Tuesday evening.

Approximately 165 Masons and their ladies heard Judge Sheely tell of the threat to Masonry in 1830 when an anti-Masonic convention was held in Philadelphia with more than 100 delegates. Included among the delegates was Gettysburg's Thaddeus Stevens.

From 1830 to 1850 Masonry encountered much opposition and many lodges were forced to close their doors.

Comparing the threat to Masonry then with "an even greater threat to Masonry today," Sheely declared "it is a threat to democracy itself." He spoke of the danger of Communism. "Communist propaganda is being preached in country after country. Communism is based on atheism which is opposed to the basic elements of Masonry. Communism abolishes the basic truths, teaches rebellion against order, and is against freedom and liberty; while Masonry teaches truths, stands for law and order and champions freedom and liberty."

Judge Sheely reminded the group that an iron curtain has descended on the countries of Asia and Europe (Please Turn to Page Two)

COMMISSIONERS TO ASK ROUTE 30 BE KEPT OPEN

The Adams county commissioners will ask the state Highway department to keep the Lincoln highway west of here open during the coming summer while the new roadbed is laid between McKnightstown and Fayetteville.

That decision was reached this morning after John D. Lippy, Jr., Henry W. Garvin, David Forney, Charles H. Huber, Jr., and Albert L. Wolford appeared before the commissioners asking their assistance in keeping the old road open while the new road is placed.

Nearly all of the construction work will take place over a route some distance from the present highway and thus could be carried out without closing the present Route 30, the group told the commissioners.

Cite Harmful Effects

They said that they had learned traffic maybe turned off at Chambersburg and sent by way of Waynesboro through Emmitsburg while the new road is being built.

To halt traffic on the Lincoln highway would be very harmful to business places along the present highway during the summer when tourist traffic is at its height, the men pointed out.

They added that the proposed road could be nearly completed before it would be necessary to cut into the present Lincoln highway at the several spots where the new and old road connect.

The commissioners, acting as the county election board, set Monday, March 15, between 1 and 2 o'clock as the time of drawing for places on the ballot for the April primary.

Tentative plans have been made for purchasing a new tractor, to be paid for by the borough council. The present tractor, according to fire company officials, is in need of replacement. The tractor and truck had been in service in Wilmington for 22 years prior to purchase by the Gettysburg department for $1,850.

HAROLD KELLER BADLY BURNED AS FIRE LEVELS GARAGE, SHOP

A garage owned by Harold Keller, 47, Grand View Terrace, was completely destroyed by fire at 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon; an automobile owned by Robert Thompson, York Springs, was lost with the garage; two other automobiles were damaged; the rear of Keller's home adjoining the garage was scorched, and Mr. Keller was taken to the Warner hospital with serious first and second degree burns.

Mr. Keller conducted an automobile repair shop and auto painting plant. He and his son, James Nevin, aged about 20 years, were changing a gasoline tank on the Thompson car. There were two stoves in the garage, and it is believed that gasoline fumes ignited and exploded. Flames filled the building.

Son Removes Car

Keller was badly burned about the face, arms and legs before he could get out of the garage. His son jumped into his own car, which was in the building, and drove it through the doors. The front of it was badly burned, however, Fire Chief James A. Aumen said.

Another automobile standing at the side of the garage was also damaged. The heat of the flames scorched the tarpaper shingles on the Keller house but Gettysburg firemen, who were called, succeeded in saving this building.

Equipment Lost

The garage was of frame construction, covered by tarpaper shingles, and burned quickly. Firemen said they could see the flames shooting 50 to 75 feet in the air as they sped out Carlisle street en route to the fire.

There was no water, and as fast as water in the booster tanks of the Gettysburg fire trucks was used up, the trucks returned to a Broadway fire hydrant to fill up again.

Firemen were unable to accurately estimate the damage, but said it would reach several thousand dollars. Considerable garage equipment and paint sprayers were destroyed in the fire.

Mr. Keller remains a patient in the hospital today.

Students of home economics in the junior and senior classes took part as "teachers" in the opening class held in the third grade taught by Mrs. Marian Sloat Tuesday.

Training Camp Briefs

Tampa, Fla., March 10 (AP)—Manager Johnny Neun of the Cincinnati Reds hopes that Rookies Hank Sauer and Ted Kluszewski will supply the extra base punch that has been missing from the Reds' attack for so long. Both boast excellent minor league records as sluggers and the two have highlighted the Reds' drills with their punch.

Yesterday, each clubbed a homer as the Reds downed the Philadelphia Phillies, 13-3 in the Reds' first exhibition game of the season. Kluszewski, who led the South Atlantic league and the Southern association in batting in 1946 and 1947 respectively, clubbed Dutch Leonard for a three-run homer in the first inning.

The 23-year-old Kluszewski hit for 232 total bases while belting Southern association pitching at a .377 clip for Memphis last year. The lanky first sacker is a southpaw all the way.

Sauer, a righthanded hitting outfielder, has been up with the Reds before. He batted 50 homers while hitting .336 for Syracuse of the International league last year. The big flyhawk drove a pitch over the left field wall in the fourth to highlight a five run uprising that clinched the game for the Reds.

West Palm Beach, Fla., March 10 (AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics claim they have installed a set of fool proof battery signals. Even if the opposition understands the system, they can't be stolen, the A's say. The system was used yesterday as the second string whipped the varsity, 2-1.

Clearwater, Fla., March 10 (AP)—Two highly-regarded rookie pitchers for the Philadelphia Phils had difficulties yesterday in their encounter with Cincinnati. Dick Koehler, from Utica, yielded nine hits in three innings. Charlie Bicknell, late of Wilmington, gave up only two hits in two innings, but walked two straight Reds before delivering a home run ball to Clyde Vollmer.

Middlecoff, Ferrier Are Miami Champs

Miami, Fla., March 10 (AP)—Cary Middlecoff, a 24-year-old dentist of Memphis, Tenn., and 38-year-old Jim Ferrier of San Francisco, a veteran of the fairways and holder of the PGA title, are the new champions of the Miami international four ball golf tournament.

The two clinched the victory one up on the 36th hole yesterday from Ed Furgol of Pontiac, Mich., and Ellsworth Vines of Los Angeles.

Ferrier and Middlecoff each picked up checks for $1,250. The runners up received $750 apiece.

CALDWELL WAS 3-SPORT STAR AT PRINCETON

Charles W. Caldwell, Jr., head football coach at Princeton university, who will conduct the annual football clinic at Gettysburg college on Saturday, March 20, has often been regarded as one of Princeton's foremost athletes.

Caldwell, who graduated from the Tiger school in 1925, earned three football letters, three in baseball and one in basketball while an undergraduate.

Upon his graduation he joined the New York Yankees of the American league as a pitcher and then joined the football staff at Princeton, serving a three-year apprenticeship under Bill Roper. In 1928 he became head coach at Williams college, Massachusetts, where he coached 15 football teams, 14 baseball teams and 11 basketball quintets.

In 1945 he was named head coach at Princeton and in his first year led the Tiger baseball team to the Eastern Intercollegiate league title. He relinquished his baseball coaching last spring.

Caldwell's 1947 Orange and Black eleven became the 10th Princeton team in history to defeat Harvard and Yale in the same season and gained the "Big Three" title for the Tigers for the first time since 1939. The Tigers won five of eight games last year.

Mythical Crown To Clarion Teachers

Philadelphia, March 10 (AP)—A record of five victories and two defeats carried the Clarion teachers to victory in the race for the mythical Pennsylvania Teacher Colleges' basketball crown.

In replacing Lock Haven as the No. 1 Teacher five, Clarion closed fast to take advantage of Mansfield's weaker finish. Mansfield apparently had the title tucked away but dropped successive games to Millersville and Shippensburg last week.

As the result the Mountaineers wound up second with a 5-3 record. Shippensburg stepped up to third place with a conference performance of 8-5 and the season's best over-all record of 11 victories and five defeats. Shippensburg also was far ahead in point production, chalking up 726.

Walcott In Chicago
Exhibition Tonight

Chicago, March 10 (AP)—Jersey Joe Walcott makes his first ring appearance tonight since losing a split decision to Joe Louis in a 15-round title match at New York city last December.

The New Jersey contender squares off in his Chicago debut against Austin Johnson, Atlantic City heavyweight, in a four-round exhibition at the Coliseum.

The 34-year-old Negro challenger said he plans to begin intensive drills in April for his return bout with Louis in Yankee Stadium June 23.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 10 (AP)—

Your ordinary baseball manager envies the rival who has some good ball players on the field—Eddie Dyer of the St. Louis Cardinals is envying the ones with a "strong bench"—that may be a tipoff that the Cards will have a better-than-fair first string this season.

Eddie reasons that Brooklyn was a better club than St. Louis last year because of that veteran reserve strength on the bench. "Fellows like Lavagetto and Vaughan can't play every day," he says, "but last year Lavagetto made two hits against us that won two close games and Vaughan did the same thing once."

Following that theory, Dyer may keep Don Lang, an older player who had a good year at Columbus in 1947, as his utility infielder instead of the younger Tom Glaviano or Bernie Creger.

"You don't want fine prospects on the bench. You want them to play," he explains.

STATE LIQUOR SALES DECLINE

Harrisburg, March 10 (AP)—All but two of Pennsylvania's 67 counties showed declines last year in liquor sales.

Only Montgomery and Monroe counties showed gains last year over 1946, the State Liquor Control board said in a report on retail sales. The statewide decline was 11.05 per cent even though receipts totaled $208,390,184.

The heaviest business was done in the 202 stores in the Philadelphia division, including most of southeastern Pennsylvania. They accounted for $96,708,547 on sales. One store in Philadelphia—that at 2002 Market street—did a $2,539,750 business.

State stores in Philadelphia and Allegheny county accounted for almost half of the liquor monopoly's business. Sales in the 88 Philadelphia stores totaled $60,733,346 in Elect New Clerk: Howard A. Knouse, of near Knoxville, was elected clerk at the Gettysburg National bank by directors of that institution on Tuesday. Mr. Knouse succeeds Paul J. Lower, who resigned to become cashier of the Fairfield National Bank. Mr. Knouse, who is now student at the Lancaster Business college, will assume his new duties in March 26.

Garretson-Taylor: Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Hilda Taylor, daughter of Jerry Taylor, of Benderville, to Harry Garretson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Garretson, of Aspers.

Married at Home: Miss Sarah Catherine Hartlaub and Walter Daniel Fohl, both of Biglerville, were married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Hartlaub, of Biglerville, Saturday evening at 8 o'clock. The bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Fohl, of Biglerville. Rev. S. F. Tholan performed the ceremony.

The couple was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Lady, of Biglerville. Following the ceremony, a reception was held for Mr. and Mrs. Fohl at the Fohl home.

Building Workers Standing Ground: The strike of Gettysburg carpenters called on March 1 when workers in that trade laid down their tools after being refused a compromise increase of five cents an hour in their wages, seems to have run its course.

The skilled carpenters positively refuse to go back to work at the old rate of 50 cents an hour, insisting that their greater knowledge and experience of the carpenter trade is worth more money. Some unskilled carpenters, the more talented declare, are not worth more than fifty cents an hour.

Sportsmen Buy Forest Tract: Thirteen acres of forest land, located in one of the best game sections of the South Mountains, has been purchased by a group of Adams county sportsmen. The tract lies four miles south of Pine Grove, between Caledonia and Laurel Dam.

Those comprising the group of purchasers are: Eddie Plank, Robert F. Bell, Paul Martin, J. Donald Swope and D. J. Forney, of Gettysburg; Grover C. Myers, H. E. Beam and W. F. Gardner, of Gettysburg; J. Chester Bell, Hunterstown; Harvey Lewis, Orantanna, and Lake Coulson, Chambersburg. The tract was bought from Hugh Miller, Carlisle, representing the Miller estate.

Organization of a hunting club, to consist of not more than twenty members, is now underway.

Benefit for Band: A comedy, "My Old New Hampshire Home," will be presented by home talent this evening at the Community Hall in Two Taverns for the benefit of the Mt. Joy Community band.

Students Must Avoid Dances: Faculty action against the twelve students at Gettysburg College, who broke four rules in attending a midnight-to-morning dance at Graefenberg Inn on the night following the Junior Prom, was taken on Thursday afternoon when six seniors and six juniors, comprising the offenders were ordered not to attend any more College dances during the remainder of the school year.

Outbreak of Measles: Five new cases of measles in Gettysburg are reported today by Health Officer Eric Deardorff, who has placarded the homes of the patients and placed them under quarantine. The school children who must submit to the quarantine are Katherine Gitt, Carol Heagy, Edward D. Hudson, Roy Boyer and Eva Boyer.

Contributions Made for Relief: Three of the churches in Gettysburg, the Presbyterian, Church of the Brethren and St. James Lutheran, observed Near East Sunday with special speakers from out-of-town on the subject.

Incendiarism Seen in Big Fire:

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS
THINKING TO MYSELF

I have been greatly interested and entertained by two books that have recently been published. One "The American Past" and the other "I Remember Distinctly." Both emphasize the truth that nothing in ideas or progress, or even taste, remains the same. There are changes going on forever.

Human nature, however, remains the same. We merely become more speculative, more daring in our desire for uniqueness. The only thing that doesn't change is fundamental truth. It is the same as thousands of years ago. Manners, customs, ideas alone vary. We have our great classics and our great art and poetry. They do not die. Throughout the ages they continue to uplift and inspire.

But these times in which we live and have our being will also pass—and be the amusement and speculation of those who will later follow us. I wonder, however, if civilization will then have advanced far enough to place war where it ought to belong—with the cruelest of capital crimes, and there meet its judgment? And those who stir up war as plain conspirators, subjected as traitors to all mankind? Who would not want to live in a world where all nations would look upon one another as co-operative units for the happiness of all?

I have just finished reading again the famous "Autobiography of Benjamin Franklin"—truly one of the great books of the world. Here was a man who was both trusted and beloved by all manner of men, whether he agreed with them or not. He respected their opinions, and always sought, through peaceful means, to come to a happy understanding. Even in his lifetime he had visions of a united world in understanding. He saw the outmoded ideas and customs of his time pass away. He, himself, was the means by which great enterprises were initiated. I look upon him as the most useful and inspiring American of his time—an inspiration to all time!

What an era to pass into history, could there be evolved a method by which war would forever be abolished among nations and peace made universal! It is the cry of the human soul everywhere. Can it be that the Golden Rule is too practical? Born too soon!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Variety."

THE JOYOUS LIFE
High place is granted to the few
Whose strength exceeds the most.
But little more the great can do,
With all they have to boast,
Than keep the place where they abide.
A haven safe for honest pride,
A haven safe adown the years
For smiles of joy and sorrow's tears.

The gifts of peace and happiness
The heights no more bestow
Than poets where need for wit is less.
The joys the humble know
Are those that fortune can't provide
Unless the heart is stout inside,
And faith is high, and love is strong
And there's the will for mirth and song.

Not happiest the cleverest one
Nor champion for a while,
Nor he who has the strength to run
At swiftest speed the mile.
But gladdest they who bravely bear
Whatever comes of hurt and care,
And keep the place where they abide
A haven safe for love and pride.

SELF-HELP IS RECOGNIZED BY EUROPEANS AS PEACE FACTOR

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

Let's continue to bask while we can in that little burst of sunshine which we conjured up yesterday out of western Europe's efforts at rehabilitation.

Take the Brussels conference among Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg, which already has laid down the political and legal basis of a western European economic and military union. There are of course many implications in this development but to me the most important is the tacit recognition that self-help must be the essential feature of peace and plenty.

This recognition perhaps has been a bit slow in coming to some countries which had been hard hit and hoped that the U. S. A. would put them on their feet. However, there now seems to be a general understanding that, while America may be expected to play its part, yet in the long run western Europe can survive only through its own efforts. Uncle Sam has no intention of playing Sinbad the sailor to an economic old-man-of-the-sea.

Combats Red Menace
Several things have helped bring about the realization that self-help is the real answer to the problem. One is the growing fear of the westward advance of Communism which can best be combated by economic rehabilitation. Another probably has been the stern scrutiny which the United States Congress has been giving foreign aid proposals. Then recently a fresh element of hope has been injected into the situation by an improvement in crop prospects, after last year's disastrous harvests.

One of the hardest hit of all the countries is England, and she has taken the realistic attitude that while she must have outside help yet recovery must depend mainly upon herself. Sir Stafford Cripps, Chancellor of the Exchequer, has kept hammering it home that the country must pull itself up by its boot-strings, the measures inaugurated by the Socialist government have been truly Spartan.

Year of Hope
Yesterday we saw further evidence of this determination. Cripps summed up Britain's outlook for the coming year in a white paper which made it clear that the already hard-pinned public would have less to eat and wear. However, while "the year is bound to be one of great anxiety," we can help to make it the first year of a great upward turn in the European economic recovery.

The Chancellor continued: "This year will beyond doubt be dominated by the decisions of the U. S. Congress on the grant of aid to Europe for reconstruction. Without further substantial external aid, we can have no hope of recovering equilibrium at a reasonable standard of life within the next few years."

INOCULATING SCHOOL PUPILS

Franklin township's 275 students at Franklin township consolidated and at Strausbaugh's school in the Valley are being inoculated for diphtheria and tetanus.

A similar program of inoculation is being carried out in Fairfield and eventually the entire county is to come under the program. The youngsters in Franklin township have already received their first "shots" of the antitoxin and are to receive the second in the near future. Next fall they will be tested for immunization from diphtheria and those found not immune will receive additional shots.

In a cooperative program between the state, doctors, nurses, the school boards and local organizations the program is being carried out free of charge to the youngsters. The state is supplying the vaccine. Dr. Raymond Hale is giving the inoculations and the Cashtown fire company is providing needed funds while the school nurses completed, through the school boards, the plans for the program. Similarly at Fairfield, Dr. Ira Henderson, the Fairfield Lions club, the school board and nurses are cooperating.

The first inoculation in Franklin township was given over a period of two days.

WATER BOARD ACTS

Harrisburg, March 10 (AP)—The state sanitary water board took remedial steps today against 16 milk plants in Bucks, Montgomery and Chester counties, charged with causing stream pollution. Dr. Norris W. Vaux, state health secretary and board chairman, said a survey of 89 milk plants in the three-county area, showed that the 16 are polluting the Schuylkill river watershed.

Discovery Of Pyrophyllite In County Adds New Mineral Resources In Pennsylvania

The monthly Bulletin of the Department of Internal Affairs, contains an interesting article on the discovery of Pyrophyllite on a farm near York Springs. The property is owned by Mrs. Eva Pape, Buford avenue. Report of the discovery was reported in The Gettysburg Times some time ago. The Bulletin article follows:

By ROBERT C. STEPHENSON
Bureau of Topographic and Geologic Survey

A new chapter is being written in the history of development of the mineral resources of the South Mountain area, southwest of Harrisburg. A body of the mineral pyrophyllite is being outlined by diamond drilling to determine the extent and quality in preparation for commercial development.

Rock from a small quarry near the hamlet of Gargol in Adams County, three and one-half miles west of York Springs, was early used by local farmers as a lining for lime kilns because of its recognized refractory nature. This quarry is hidden in a wooded patch completely surrounded by apple orchards for which Adams County is famous. True identity of this refractory rock was not known until the summer of 1947 when the quarry was rediscovered by Mr. William T. Weldie, a Dillsburg, Pennsylvania, clay producer. While prospecting for additional clay reserves, Mr. Weldie happened upon the locality. A specimen of the rock which he collected was identified as pyrophyllite. The commercial potentialities of the occurrence were immediately recognized and plans were formulated for exploration to determine the size and quality of the mineral body.

Mineralogy
Pyrophyllite, a hydrous aluminum silicate, is most commonly fibrous or foliated in texture and has a greasy feel. The colors may range from white with a pearly luster to gray or brownish-green. Many physical characteristics of pyrophyllite are similar to those of talc, the well-known hydrous magnesium silicate. A chemical analysis is often necessary to distinguish the mineral from talc.

Samples of the mineral from the Gargol deposit compare closely with pyrophyllite from North Carolina in chemical composition. Preliminary microscopic and X-ray studies by members of the Survey staff further substantiate its identification as pyrophyllite. Pyrophyllite is interchangeable with talc in some uses and is preferred to talc for certain purposes. One-quarter of the 1944 production of pyrophyllite was used in powder form as a carrier for DDT and agricultural insecticides. It is used extensively to control shrinkage in high-grade ceramic products, including refractories. The mineral has been used as a filler in rubber and composition battery boxes. Pyrophyllite is also a suitable inert extender for paints.

Production
Thin seams of pyrophyllite have long been known to occur in slates associated with anthracite coals at Mahanoy City, Schuylkill County, and elsewhere in the anthracite district. It was also reported as an accessory mineral in Prince's Soapstone Quarry, Philadelphia County. None of these occurrences have had commercial significance, being of interest only to the mineralogist.

The Deep River District of North Carolina is the principal world source of pyrophyllite. In 1944 this district produced 66,243 tons of material.

Preliminary tests have proven the material from the Gargol deposit acceptable as a substitute for North Carolina pyrophyllite. If drilling results are favorable, it is likely that the material will be mined and sold in competition with North Carolina pyrophyllite. If similar quality can be produced, it appears that the Pennsylvania product will have the advantage of lower freight rates, being situated nearer to a major part of the market.

Regardless of the success or failure of the Gargol deposit, it is very significant that the mineral pyrophyllite has been identified as occurring in the South Mountain apophyllite rocks. The areal extent of outcrop of these rocks is very large, as shown by the index map accompanying this report. It is logical to reason, therefore, that large areas of South Mountain underlain by the acid volcanic rocks are potential sources of additional pyrophyllite reserves, some of which may prove commercial.

Long-range plans of the Topographic and Geologic Survey include a detailed study of the South Mountain area and its many varied resources. A more comprehensive study of the pyrophyllite deposits is to be included in this program.

U.S. AND RUSSIA SPLIT SHARPLY OVER PALESTINE

By LARRY HAUCK

Lake Success, March 10 (AP)—The much-heralded U. S.-Russian agreement on Palestine partition appeared today to be crumbling.

A battle of words outside United Nations chambers yesterday spotlighted their current differences over the political future of the Holy Land. It was the sharpest split on the issue between the two powers since last November when they pushed the partition plan through the U.N. Assembly.

The core of the verbal tussle was American insistence on bringing the Arabs, bitter foes of partition, into United Nations consultations. So far the Arabs have boycotted every discussion of the splitup scheme. The Jews accept the plan to create Jewish and Arab nations by next October 1.

Austin Replies

The Jews oppose overtures to the Arabs. Russia has termed the moves worthless in view of past failures at conciliation.

A high Soviet source told newsmen yesterday the United States appears to favor re-opening the partition plan.

"Some persons seem to be hesitant about carrying out the Assembly decision," he said tartly.

Several hours later Warren R. Austin, chief American delegate, took the unusual diplomatic step of replying directly to the remarks of the spokesman. Presumably, Austin's statement carried Washington's approval.

Seek New Talks

"I regret that the Soviet spokesman has sought to pre-judge the issues before the process of consultation has gotten under way," Austin

Carolina pyrophyllite. If drilling results are favorable, it is likely that the material will be mined and sold in competition with North Carolina pyrophyllite. If similar quality can be produced, it appears that the Pennsylvania product will have the advantage of lower freight rates, being situated nearer to a major part of the market.

Regardless of the success or failure of the Gargol deposit, it is very significant that the mineral pyrophyllite has been identified as occurring in the South Mountain apophyllite rocks. The areal extent of outcrop of these rocks is very large, as shown by the index map accompanying this report. It is logical to reason, therefore, that large areas of South Mountain underlain by the acid volcanic rocks are potential sources of additional pyrophyllite reserves, some of which may prove commercial.

Long-range plans of the Topographic and Geologic Survey include a detailed study of the South Mountain area and its many varied resources. A more comprehensive study of the pyrophyllite deposits is to be included in this program.

Cat Learns How To Ring Doorbell

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thomas' pet cat through watching people ring the doorbell at the Thomas home has learned how to ring the bell without any difficulty—or any training.

The bell is the type operated by a twist of the wrist and the cat stands on his hind feet, props himself against the door with his one front paw and with the other gives the bell a twist.

Mrs. Ernest Hartman saw the cat in action and reported the fact to The Gettysburg Times.

Pittsburgh, March 10 (AP)—Discussions of safety in coal mines today highlighted sessions of the 23rd annual safety engineering conference and exhibit. The three-day session is sponsored by the Western Pennsylvania Safety Council and American Society of Safety Engineers.

Lake pukaations called seiches, first observed in Lake Geneva but later found in many other lakes, have not been adequately explained by science.

said in a special statement read to newsmen by an American press officer. Adding that he was "surprised" that the Soviet delegation would authorize such remarks, Austin said:

"I can say that my government is interested in the facts and in a decision based upon them."

Austin's comment came after high American sources disclosed the U. S. is making strong efforts to persuade Arab officials here and abroad to join in U.N. talks. It was reported the representations were being made through top diplomatic channels with the Arab nations in the Middle East. It was understood there had been no acceptance from the Arabs so far.

IN MEMORIAM
In memory of our dear son and brother, Ray E. Kepner, who was killed March 10, 1947.

Gone but not forgotten
Here today, gone tomorrow
Leaving scars of deepest sorrow,
No warning of the death that came
To our brother and our son.

He would not want the ones he loved
To grieve for him today
We must not say that he is dead,
For he is just away.

Sadly missed by Mother, Dad, Sisters and Brothers.

The monthly meeting of Littlestown Cub Pack No. 84 held Tuesday evening in the scout headquarters in the basement of the State Bank building, was well attended by members, parents and friends. The theme was "Cub Handy Man" and during the course of the past month, at the various den meetings, the champion nail driver of each den was selected. They were Jack Stiles, Den No. 1; Ronald Strevig, Den No. 2; and James Bowers, Den No. 3. At the meeting on Tuesday evening, the champion of the entire cub pack was selected. Reds seized the country.

The government said Masaryk "voluntarily took his life." The foreign minister had suffered from bronchitis recently.

Masaryk's body was found in the palace courtyard at about 8 a. m. It was carried away quickly. Neighbors said the lights in Masaryk's offices burned all night.

Masaryk was revered in Czechoslovakia as the son of Thomas G. Masaryk, liberator, founder and first president of modern Czechoslovakia. His retention in the Communist-bossed cabinet after the coup was interpreted here as a Communist maneuver to make use of his name.

Served In Exile

His flat endorsement several days later of close cooperation with Russia, coupled with an "I am with you" message to the army and to his "Czech and Slovak brothers," however, seemed to most qualified observers here to mean that he had embarked on a definite course of action. There were two schools of thought as to what that course might be.

One felt he was playing a most dangerous double game.

The other felt he had lent himself to the new government, in the possible hope that he could steer it on a middle course and bring Moscow and the west together in the peace he always insisted must be maintained.

Masaryk first became foreign minister for the Czech government in exile on July 8, 1940. He returned to Prague when Czechoslovakia was liberated from the Germans in 1945 and kept the foreign affairs post.

Had Bronchitis

The foreign minister, suffering from bronchitis, remained in sick bed during the recent government crisis and refused to see reporters.

His retention in the cabinet was considered by some to be a political maneuver by which the Communists hoped to trade on the name of his father.

A bomb plot against Masaryk's life was foiled last September. The conspiracy failed when explosive parcels were found in the mails addressed to Masaryk and two other Czechoslovak officials.

Masaryk was considered last September as a possibility for the presidency of the United Nations Assembly sessions. He headed the Czechoslovak delegation to the assembly.

Masaryk was born September 14, 1886 in Prague. He completed his education at Charles university, Prague. Later he studied in Boston.

He made his first visit to the United States in 1907, and worked for Charles Crane, the father of Richard Crane, who became first U. S. Minister to Czechoslovakia. He remained in the United States until 1913.

Served In Army

During the first world war Masaryk served with the Austro-Hungarian army and was discharged with the rank of first lieutenant.

After the war he entered the Czechoslovak diplomatic service.

At 61, Masaryk was a heavy-set man. He was a member of the alty Sunday school class of St. Paul's Lutheran church, taught by Mrs. Carl Baumgardner, was held Monday evening at the home of the president, Mrs. Charles Ritter. Twenty-one members were present.

The opening devotion was in charge of Mrs. David Kammerer. The topic of the evening was, "World Day of Prayer." The scripture lesson was read by Mrs. Charles Ritter and Mrs. Charles Kump offered prayer, which was followed by the Lord's prayer in unison.

The class voted a contribution of $5 to the Red Cross. A poem was read by each member of the class present, after which Miss Beulah Wintrobe entertained with a reading on "Easter."

The group then engaged in contests and prizes were won by Mrs. Robert Snyder, Mrs. Clair Worley and Mrs. Luther Ritter. The hostess was assisted by the members of group No. 1 in serving refreshments. The next meeting of the class will be held Monday, April 12, at a place to be announced later.

The Mothers' Sunday School class of St. Mary's Evangelical and Reformed church, Silver Run, will be held Friday at 7:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Edward Leister, West Myrtle street. Each member is requested to respond to roll call with an appropriate reading for the Lenten season.

Miss Katherine Grau, Baltimore, is spending some time with her sister, Mrs. Sara Bittinger, South Queen street.

Miss Jennie Huff, Wilkes-Barre, spent the weekend with her cousin, Mrs. Charles Pfeiffer, Cemetery street.

The Rev. and Mrs. John Kammerer, daughters, Mary Catherine and Margaret, Marysville, are spending several days with the former's parents, the Rev. and Mrs. David S. Kammerer, West King street.

Johnstown, Pa., March 10 (P)—The Public Utility Commission today opened a three-day hearing into the Johnstown Traction company's request for higher street car and bus fares. The company seeks a straight 10-cent fare instead of the present three rides for a quarter.

six-foot man fluent in several languages. His famed black Homburg hat—a type he wore for 20 years, was almost a Masaryk trademark.

"I never planned on my own future," he once said. "I have always been pushed into success. I entered diplomacy without merit or qualification. I merely chose my father well."

Masaryk's wartime broadcasts were a source of consolation to the Czech people who had to bear the brunt of a German-run economy. They bore Masaryk no ill will for being out of the country.

One of his first acts upon arriving in Czechoslovakia again after World War II was to lay a wreath on the grave of Karel Capek, one of the nation's greatest writers.

When he returned to his car he found this message chalked on a door:

"We love you."

Blowtorch Starts Fatal $75,000 Fire

Zanesville, O., March 10 (P)—When kerosene from a blow torch spread over the clothing of James W. Stiles, 19, last night it started a chain of circumstances that caused a $75,000 fire and took his life.

After Stiles' clothing caught fire, flames spread to the shed he was working in at the Ohio Ferro-Alloys corporation, in nearby Philo. Then a loading platform caught fire, an oil tank exploded, two freight cars on a siding were destroyed and a Stiles died of burns several hours later.

Eight Still Active

There were 23 charter members of the Littlestown club, the first eight of whom are still active: Howard G. Blocher, Roy D. Knouse, the Rev. David S. Kammerer, Dr. Joseph R. Riden, Stanley B. Stover, A. W. Schott, Dr. Howard A. Stoner, Luther D. Snyder, I. D. Crouse, Dr. H. S. Crouse, William Farrar, W. R. Jones, John W. Little, Joseph Milson, John A. Mayers, C. L. Mehrling, J. W. Pins were presented to Luther D. Snyder, who served as secretary of the local club for 17 years, and Howard G. Blocher, who was the first treasurer of the club. They also had perfect attendance at the Rotary meetings for the 20 years they were members. E. W. Dunbar made the presentation.

Mr. Dunbar commended Mr. Snyder for his remarkable history of Rotary in Littlestown, copies of which he has sent to other parts of the United States, to Austria and to New Zealand. Dr. Stoner missed only two meetings in 20 years. Mr. Dunbar was then presented with a pin for perfect attendance at Rotary meetings for over 21 years.

Musical Numbers

Philip Royer, director of band and orchestra at Western Maryland college and instructor of violin in the Carroll county public schools entertained with two selections: "Sarabande" by Carl Bohm and "Waltz in A Major" by Brahms, the transposition by Hochstein. He was accompanied by Miss Mary Louise Alexander of Taneytown, who is teacher of music and physical education in Manchester.

"Rotary must justify its existence," Mr. Deane, the principal speaker, said. "Rotary in foreign countries encourages tolerance and fellowship by going over the boundaries of social and color prejudice." He added that "we must maintain high ethical standards in our international trade."

The program for the 20th birthday party was in charge of the Fellowship committee, with Harrison P. Snyder as chairman. The community service committee of which Richard A. Little is chairman, will be in charge of the program next week.

Dewey Wins New Hampshire Round In Ballot Box Battle; Stassen Still In Fight

DEWEY WINS 6 OF 8 DELEGATES IN FIRST TEST

By JACK BELL

Washington, March 10 (AP)—New York's Gov. Thomas E. Dewey showed today he still packs a potent political punch by capturing six of eight presidential delegate votes in New Hampshire.

But by taking the remaining two in yesterday's first 1948 primary, former Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota kept himself in the thick of the race for the Republican nomination.

Politicians thus regarded the New England result as pretty much of a standoff. They turned eyes westward for the next battle—Wisconsin's April 6 primary.

Three-Cornered Battle
These Dewey and Stassen take on Gen. Douglas MacArthur, who will be testing for the first time his appeal as a positive candidate.

The New Hampshire race long had been billed by Dewey supporters as an indicator of the New Yorker's strength in New England. Gov. Charles M. Dale, one of the six Dewey-pledged delegates elected, labeled the outcome a "flattering tribute" to the governor.

Stassen's supporters on the other hand insisted they were well satisfied with collecting two Philadelphia convention ballots in an area where the middlewesterner was little known in 1944, when Dewey won the party nomination.

One result of the New England primary was to serve notice on Senator Robert A. Taft that Stassen is to be reckoned with in the May 4 primary in the Ohio Senator's home state. The Minnesotan has announced plans to go after delegates there in a number of districts.

MacArthur To Carry On
Senator Brewster (R-Me) said the Wisconsin results "will settle it one way or the other for MacArthur."

There were strong hints that MacArthur will come back to this country in the next few months in any event. He would return immediately, of course, if he won the nomination.

But if he is not nominated, or if he withdraws from the race, Tokyo dispatches said the resultant loss of "face" in Japanese eyes might make it impractical for him to remain as Supreme Commander of the occupation forces.

In Tokyo, MacArthur took pains to make it known that his announcement will not "change in the slightest" his routine as occupation commander.

STATE C. OF C. STUDIES TAXES

Harrisburg, March 10 (AP)—The State Chamber of Commerce said today home rule "in its real sense" would minimize the need of new local taxes.

"The city-management plan, in itself, undoubtedly would help to lower costs and improve efficiency," the chamber said in a preliminary report on statewide effect of the 1947 local tax law.

The chamber raised the question of whether or not "a more serious and concerted effort to modernize and improve local government should have preceded any such broad grant of taxing authority."

The 1947 legislature authorized nearly 3,600 political subdivisions to impose taxes not already levied upon by the state. Gov. James H. Duff had supported the law as home-rule legislation.

The chamber's comprehensive report on the controversial measure listed more than 1,500 municipalities or school districts in 42 counties as considering new local taxes other than on real estate.

"In some cases," the survey indicated, "a number of different taxes have been adopted, or considered by

Pa. Congressmen Asking Re-election

Harrisburg, March 10 (AP)—Thirty-two of Pennsylvania's congressmen the seeking renomination at the April 27 primaries. Only U. S. Rep. Mitchell Jenkins, of Luzerne county, a Republican, decided against running for another two-year term.

Seventeen of the Republican incumbents and two Democratic lawmakers will go on the primary ballots of their respective parties without opposition.

In addition, 12 candidates for Democratic and two for Republican nominations were not opposed in districts where the seats are now held by members of the opposite parties.

Democratic candidates failed to file, however, for nominations in the 17th and 20th congressional districts. Those seats are now held by U. S. Reps. Richard M. Simpson, Huntingdon, and James E. Van Zandt, Altoona.

The same unit.
The most popular of the levies are those on amusements. Severance taxes, mostly on coal, are also being utilized to a great extent, the chamber said.

In 1905 some serious-minded observers believed the limits of success had been reached in flying.

CORN WAS KING IN STATE IN '47; HAY IS SECOND

Although tobacco brought a greater average financial return per acre to Pennsylvania farmers than any other 1947 crop, corn remained king of all Keystone state crops in total estimated farm value, the state Department of Agriculture reports from Federal-State surveys.

Tobacco averaged slightly more than $500 per acre.

Exceeded in acreage only by hay, the 1947 Pennsylvania corn crop, worth 140 million dollars and more valuable this year than ever before as livestock feed, outranked hay in value by nearly $77,000,000, Secretary Miles Horst pointed out.

Acreage Above Average
Corn was grown last year on 1,352,000 acres, about 18,000 less than the year before, but 20,000 more than average, 1936-1945. The yield per acre averaged 42.5 bushels, half a bushel less than 1946 but about two bushels more than the 10-year average. Total estimated production of 57,460,000 bushels was about two million less than the year before, but nearly four million above average.

The price received per bushel for the 1947 corn crop averaged $2.45 compared with $1.80 in 1946. Value per acre was $104.12 against $77.40 the year before, making the total value for all Pennsylvania corn $140,777,000 compared with $106,812,000 for the 1946 crop.

The 1947 Pennsylvania hay crop of 3,651,000 tons, grown on 2,437,000 acres, yielding an average of 1.5 tons per acre, or a total value of $63,892,000. Hay, therefore, takes second place among all 1947 crops in total value.

How Others Ranked
The rank of other crops in order of total estimated value for 1947 follows:

Wheat third, 22,296,000 bushels worth $2.40 per bushel, total value $53,510,000.

Potatoes fourth, 17,965,000 bushels at $1.70 per bushel, total $30,544,000.

Oats fifth, 19,865,000 bushels at $1.10 per bushel, total $21,852,000.

Commercial apples, seventh, 6,612,000 bushels at $2.25 per bushel, total $14,877,000.

Peaches 10th, 1,920,000 bushels at $2.40 per bushel, total $4,608,000.

Cherries 13th, 5,100 tons at $2.53 per ton, total $12,901,000.

Food In Storage In State On Decrease

Decreases in apples and all dairy and poultry products except shell eggs took place in Pennsylvania cold storage houses during the month of January, the state Department of Agriculture announced today following Federal-State surveys.

Apples in storage declined from 1,027,000 bushels on January 1 to 699,000 bushels on February 1, the Department said. This was a drop of 328,000 bushels. In comparison, apple holdings in Pennsylvania storage houses on February 1, 1947, totaled 936,000 bushels. The 1947 commercial apple crop of 6,612,000 bushels was nearly two million less than in 1946.

Supplies of shell eggs in cold storage plants of the state continued low. On February 1, there were 5,000 cases of 30 dozen each compared with only 3,000 cases on January 1. Cold weather prevented the seasonal increase in egg production usually experienced in January, observers said.

Poultry meat reserves declined during January by 364,000 pounds leaving 7,793,000 pounds in storage on February 1.

Negro Magistrate To Be Candidate

Philadelphia, March 10 (AP)—Magistrate Joseph H. Rainey, one of Philadelphia's two negro members of the minor judiciary, said yesterday he would be a progressive party candidate for Congress in the 4th District.

Rainey, who was elected to his magistrical post on the Democratic ticket, said the two major political parties had ignored Philadelphia's 350,000 negroes by not slating any member of that race for congress.

NEW PIPELINE IS PROPOSED

New York, March 10 (AP)—Natural gas from Texas for the eastern seaboard came a step closer today.

The Texas Eastern Transmission Corp. announced it had applied to the Federal Power Commission to construct and operate a 26-inch pipeline parallel to its Big Inch and Little Inch pipelines.

The proposed 1,020-mile pipe would carry Texas to Wind Ridge, Pa., where it would tie in with the existing Big and Little Inch to Philadelphia and Linden, N. J. Extensions would carry it to the New York industrial area. The cost was estimated at $152,131,000.

Pipe shortages, the company conceded, would probably delay construction until after 1948.

The new line—two inches larger than Big Inch and six inches larger than Little Inch—would deliver 425,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily, the application to FPC stated.

Texas Eastern proposed to sell 39,000,000 cubic feet daily in the Appalachian area and 386,000,000 cubic feet on the eastern seaboard.

The company estimated its system would then be delivering 933,000,000 cubic feet daily. Big and Little Inch lines now serve Ohio, Western Pennsylvania, and other north central industrial areas.

Reading Veteran Sues War Bride

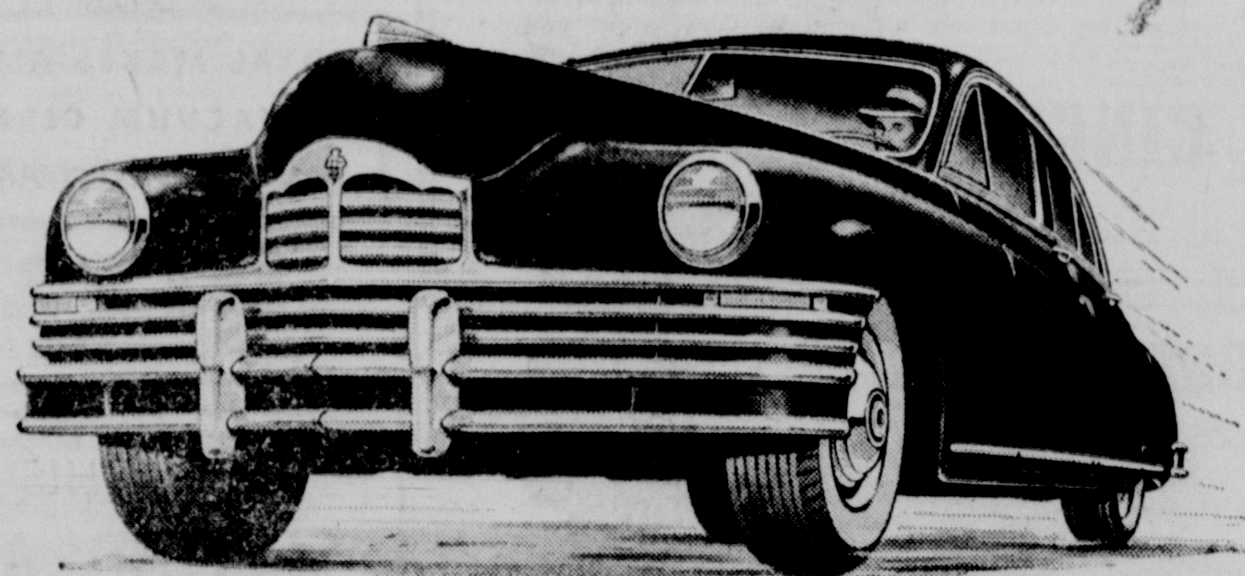

Reading, Pa., March 10 (AP)—Frederic M. Rothermel, Reading veteran, filed suit for divorce from his British-born wife, Joan B. Rothermel, alleging that she deserted him after living in Reading for eight months.

Rothermel contended in the suit filed yesterday that he was married to the English girl, a resident of Annes-on-Sea, England, August 13, 1945. His wife joined him in Reading, he said, after his return to this country in December, 1945, but last February did not return from a visit to her mother in England.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., March 10 (AP)—A miner was killed and two injured when caught under a rock fall in the Empire shaft of the Glen Alden Coal company. John F. Burkner, 23, Lee Park, former resident of Northampton, was killed yesterday. He had planned to be married in June.

LABORATORY PLANS BEING PUSHED TODAY

Members of the property committee of the South Mountain Fruit Research Laboratories were visiting the Emory Sheely property in Arendtsville today to complete plans for renovations leading to the conversion of the Sheely home into a laboratory.

Members of the committee include Harvey B. Raffensperger, of Arendtsville and Robert C. Lott, Aspers R. D. The committee is one of a number set up by Adams, Franklin and York county fruit growers when they banded together to provide better facilities for the Arendtsville fruit laboratory.

Original plans called for construction of a new laboratory building on the Amos Sheely farm in Arendtsville which was purchased last year. When it was found that upwards of $60,000 would be needed to construct the building, the group voted to buy the Emory Sheely property, about three blocks from the Amos Sheely property and convert the house and structures for laboratory purposes.

Plan Four Labs
Four laboratories and four offices can be placed in the eight-room brick Sheely house, it is believed. A 34-foot square frame building previously used for storing apples will be made into a three-truck garage and storage shed according to present plans. Another frame building, about 30 feet wide by 40 feet long will be used for storing sprayers and the like. A number of chicken houses and other buildings are on the property, and many of them, if they cannot be used, will be torn down, it was learned.

Present plans call for construction of a greenhouse about 12 by 22 feet on the Emory Sheely property.

Officials of the laboratories are planning to have the property in shape by mid-summer to move the laboratory from its present site in Arendtsville.

More than 15 acres of land are contained in two Sheely properties.

The farmer who markets his fast-growing gilts for butcher hogs, and retains the mediocre or slow-developing ones for breeding, gets off to a bad start on his future pig crop.

About 95 per cent of the cases of tuberculosis in hogs are contracted from chickens infected with this disease.

FEWER TURKEYS

The state Department of Agriculture announced today, following hatchery production surveys by the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service, that production of turkey poults, which was getting under way by the first of February, reflected a lack of interest due to the relatively unprofitable season experienced by many growers in 1947. Intentions to raise turkeys in Pennsylvania this year indicate a crop of little more than one million birds, 24 per cent below last year.

FEWER POTATOES HELD

Approximately one million fewer bushels of potatoes were held for market by Pennsylvania growers and local dealers on February 1 than a year earlier, the state Department of Agriculture reports from Federal-State surveys. Nearly two million bushels of Pennsylvania potatoes were sold during the month of January.

FARM CALENDAR

Promote Farm Safety—Correction and elimination of barn hazards will be a good investment, reminds J. R. Haswell, extension agricultural engineer of the Pennsylvania State college. He suggests checking on loft doors, feed chutes, ladders, stairways, floors, lighting, tools left in alleyways, and smoking and use of matches and lanterns.

Feed Silage to Cows—Corn silage or grass silage is a good feed for the bred cows, according to W. B. Connell, livestock extension specialist of the Pennsylvania State college. He recommends 2 to 2½ pounds per day for each cow—a bushel crate for every 10 cows. Use of silage saves grain.

Locate Garden Near House—Most convenient location for the home vegetable garden is near the house, but soil conditions must be right. A good garden soil is mellow and loamy in texture, with topsoil at least 8 inches deep.

Repair Farm Machines—Costly delays during the busy planting season may be avoided if needed repairs are made to farm machinery now.

Avoid Butchering Mishaps—Slippery footing may cause accidents in butchering, C. A. Burge, Penn State livestock extension specialist, suggests removing ice and sprinkling ashes on the ground, or if inside use sand, sawdust, or crushed rock salt.

Build Hay Finisher—While the hay mow is empty, changes may be made in the floor for the installation of hay finishers.

Select Clean Seed—Wherever possible plant vegetable seed that is known to be resistant to diseases as well as treated for protection against diseases. Some plant diseases survive in the soil for three or four years and may cause severe losses.

Mark Wet Spots—When the ground is fully saturated, wet spots show up best in the fields. Farmers planning to drain these fields for full use can mark the spots and do the ditching later, reminds J. R. Haswell, extension agricultural engineer of the Pennsylvania State college. He suggests early ordering of drain tile.

Cut Timber Now—Cutting of timber before sap starts to run prevents wood from staining and avoids insect and fungus damage, reminds P. T. Murphy, Penn State extension forester.

"EAGLE EYES" INSPECT EVERY U.S. TAX RETURN

By JAMES MARLOW Washington, March 10 (AP)—May be you're wondering, with the income tax return deadline coming up March 15 on 1947 income:

- 1. Does the government really check every return?
- 2. How does the government find out when someone is cheating?
- The answer is:
- 1. Every return is checked, at least to see that the arithmetic is all right and there's nothing obviously wrong or suspicious.
- 2. But only three out of every 100 returns are thoroughly checked. And the bigger your return, the closer the look it gets from the Internal Revenue bureau.

How They're Selected But how does the bureau pick those three-out-of-100 returns for a thorough check? In these ways:

- 1. In some cases there's something so wrong on the face of the return that it rings like a firebell.
- 2. The bureau gets a "tip" on a certain return to watch for it.
- 3. And those higher incomes get a closer going over.

The Internal Revenue bureau has only about 45,000 employees who deal with income taxes, and that number includes: typists and other clerical help, plus investigators, agents and collectors, such as help you figure your tax when you go into a Revenue Bureau office.

Can't Check Them All With that number of employees it's impossible for the bureau to check every return thoroughly.

Following is an explanation of the check made. The figures given are for the returns filed last year. They'll hold pretty true for the returns filed by March 15.

Last year 52,820,000 people filed a tax return on their 1946 income. Of that number, 51,170,900 had income under $7,000. The bureau checked thoroughly 1.6 per cent, or 830,000.

Means Investigations Another 720,000 made between $7,000 and $10,000. The bureau thoroughly checked 16.7 per cent, or 120,000.

Another 730,000 made between $10,000 and $25,000. The bureau thoroughly checked 20.5 per cent, or 150,000.

Another 200,000 made $25,000 or

M'GRATH TURNS PARTY'S BACK ON MR. WALLACE

Philadelphia, March 10 (AP)—J. Howard McGrath, Democratic National committee chairman, has turned his party's back on Henry Wallace.

Carroll Reece, Republican National committee chairman, speaking with McGrath at the Philadelphia Bulletin Forum last night, said that the "Republican party is a united party. It has no Moscow wing."

Predicting that "A United Democratic party" would win the November general election, McGrath sharply criticized what he termed "the impractical liberalism" of Wallace.

"A Henry Wallace can condemn the bi-Partisan Foreign policy and offer nothing more than abject appeasement to the forces of Godless Communism," McGrath said.

No Radical Taint "A Henry Wallace can condone the enslavement of a Hungary and a Czechoslovakia, rationalizing the loss of a nation's liberty by a series of words that mean nothing."

Declaring that the United States "must have a united party in control of our government if we are to have a united nation," Reece said: "The Republican party has never been tainted by radicalism, as exemplified in Russia today, which makes the individual the slave of the state."

"The Republican party is a united party. It has no Moscow wing. It has no radical wing. It has no Pendergast wing. It has no Jim Crow wing."

The Republican party, said Reece, is determined to reduce taxes, and "despite the reverses sustained last year because of an outrageous misuse of the executive veto, I predict that there will be a substantial reduction in taxes this year."
